

Base station communication power connector

Overview

What is a communication base station?

Communication base station setups will usually include a wide array of different technologies, including power supplies, data servers, head end, radio repeaters, and communication systems that allow for high-speed continuous information flow. It can also be used as part of a leaky feeder system in the communication network.

What is an optical connector for a base station?

JAE has been developing optical connectors for base stations since 2000 (Figure 4). Originally, we developed a “relay connector” that connects the base station enclosure panel and wires to the optical transceiver on the board, using optical fibers.

What is the SFP Direct Connection connector?

Originally, we developed a “relay connector” that connects the base station enclosure panel and wires to the optical transceiver on the board, using optical fibers. In 2010 we developed the SFP direct connection connector to contribute to reducing the size and cost of base station designs.
