Indonesia new energy bipv solar glass components

Overview

What is building integrated photovoltaic (BIPV)?

Building Integrated Photovoltaic (BIPV) is a laminated safety energy generating glass that serves dual purpose as building envelopes while also incorporating either photovoltaic cells or ultra-thin film (opaque or semi-transparent).

Can BIPV technology be used in Southeast Asia?

Despite the many advantages of BIPV technology for the building owner and its occupants, the implementation of such technologies is not widely used in certain countries, especially in the southeast Asia region. According to Southeast Asia Energy Outlook 2019, the contribution of solar and wind energy to the total energy supply remains small [2, 3].

What is a BIPV solar panel?

These solar panels are designed to be aesthetically appealing and functional, effectively converting sunlight into electricity. BIPV technology enhances energy efficiency in buildings by harnessing solar power, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, and curbing electricity costs.

What is BIPV & BAPV glass?

Our BIPV and BAPV glass solutions support the shift toward net-zero energy buildings, where energy efficiency and renewable energy generation work hand-in-hand to reduce reliance on traditional power sources.
