Metal clad switchgear factory in Gambia

Overview

What is metal clad switchgear?

Metal-clad switchgear is typically considered top-of-the-line equipment, offering the most safety features, higher current interrupting, and more voltage options. All these options also mean that the equipment is usually larger in overall footprint. Meaning it costs significantly more than non-metal-clad switchgear or metal-enclosed switchgear.

What is a switchgear Assembly?

A switchgear assembly completely enclosed on all sides and top with sheet metal (except for ventilating openings and inspection windows) containing primary power circuit switching and/or interrupting devices with buses and connections and possibly including control and auxiliary devices.

What is a custom manufactured switchgear?

Our custom manufactured switchgear solutions are designed to meet companies' specific power distribution equipment needs, and we are known as the preferred choice among custom switchgear manufacturers. We offer a wide range of stainless-steel, metal-enclosed, and metal-clad switchgear, as well as switchboards ranging from 208V to 38kV.

Does metal-clad switchgear need a breaker cell?

Personnel working on metal-clad switchgear still have to use care when working in a breaker cell. This is due to the presence of control power that can come from multiple sources, as well as any main bus connected PT/VT's. Below are images showing the major parts of metal-clad equipment.
