Mexico solar supporting energy storage policy

Overview

Should energy storage be a priority in Mexico?

If energy storage deployment is considered a priority in the following years, Mexico could accelerate investments through a mix of storage procurement targets and financial incentives. A strong storage market can also be built over time by offering rebates, loans, investment grants, tax credits or other financial incentives.

Should energy storage be regulated in Mexico?

5.2.1. Mexico Energy storage appears scarcely in Mexican legislation and the few regulations that mention it leave the door open to potentially consider EST as either generation assets or transmission and distribution assets . If EST were regulated as generation assets, they could operate under a regime of free competition.

Are solar panels a viable option in northern Mexico?

Solar panel implementation in northern Mexico. Economic viability of a 54% public utility versus 46% private sector split. Limitations on renewable energy capacity.

Should solar panels be deployed in northern Mexico?

Questions regarding future technologies and innovation. The initiative to deploy solar panels in the northern regions of Mexico is a commendable strategy that aligns with environmental sustainability and energy independence goals. High temperatures and abundant sunlight make northern Mexico an ideal location for solar energy production.
