Does Singapore need a solar energy storage system?

SINGAPORE – As Singapore seeks to harness as much sunshine as it can to maximise its limited renewable energy sources, it needs to improve technologies that can store excess solar energy from the day. One such technology is energy storage systems (ESS), which are essentially giant batteries packed in containers that store electricity for later use.

Can a sodium-ion battery be used for energy storage in Singapore?

Posh Electric specialises in developing ESS that run on sodium-ion batteries. With the grant, the company will study the viability of this newer type of battery for energy storage in Singapore. Sodium is 1,000 times more abundant on earth compared with lithium, which has to be mined in specific areas, such as briny water and rock ores.

What is Singapore's solar energy system (ESS)?

Built across two sites on Jurong Island, our ESS enhances Singapore's grid resilience by mitigating the impact of solar intermittency as the republic progresses towards achieving its 2030 solar target of at least 2GWp and energy storage systems deployment of 200MWh beyond 2025.

What is a battery energy storage system?

Battery energy storage systems (ESS) provide critical frequency and stability support to power grids. As one of Asia's largest battery operators, our energy storage portfolio is well-positioned to support the evolving needs of power markets as they increase their uptake of renewable energy. The Sembcorp Energy Storage System was launched in 2023.
