Solar system lifespan

Overview

With a typical lifespan of 25 to 30 years for solar panels and up to 15 years for inverters, maintaining quality components and adhering to proper maintenance practices can significantly extend your system's effectiveness. How long do solar panels last?

What Is the Lifespan of Solar Panels?

Typically, the lifespan of solar panels is anywhere from 25 to 30 years, making them a remarkably durable component of solar photovoltaic (PV) systems. This longevity surpasses that of many other household systems, such as boilers, which usually have a life expectancy of 10 to 15 years.

How long do solar inverters last?

Types of Inverters String Inverters: Usually last 10 to 15 years and may require replacement during the lifespan of your solar system. Microinverters: These are installed on each panel and tend to last longer, often up to 25 years, matching the lifespan of the panels.

How long do solar batteries last?

Batteries, like the Tesla Powerwall, are a key component of solar systems designed for energy storage and backup power. However, they have a shorter lifespan compared to panels and inverters, usually lasting 10 to 15 years depending on usage and technology. Battery Types and Longevity.

How can I extend the lifespan of my solar panels?

Here are some tips that can help you extend the lifespan of your solar panels: Investing in a high-quality solar photovoltaic system from a reputable manufacturer like FusionSolar is the first step toward ensuring long-term performance and durability.
