Western European solar container communication station wind turbine room supplier

Overview

Can Enercon transport wind turbine components via inland waterways?

ENERCON and logistics partner Rhenus are using the new, innovative push barge “Rhenus Berlin I” for the first time to transport wind turbine components via inland waterways. Last weekend, steel tower sections for ENERCON wind turbines of types E-138 EP3 and E-115 EP3 were loaded onto the 100-metre-long vessel at the Port of Emden.

Are Enercon wind turbines partnering with e-138 EP3 & e-115 EP3?

Last weekend, steel tower sections for ENERCON wind turbines of types E-138 EP3 and E-115 EP3 were loaded onto the 100-metre-long vessel at the Port of Emden. The two companies will continue their collaboration in the future. The industry pioneers have now extended their partnership and signed a new framework agreement for their cooperation.

Why should you choose Enercon for your wind farm?

Here are just three: Our Customers' Demands Drive Our Research and Development 24/7 monitoring for your wind farm. Smooth operation thanks to strong ENERCON service. Benefit from our expert knowledge of planning, financing, repowering and more. Work with us to make energy generation more sustainable and future-proof.

What types of wind turbines do you transport?

Hubs, nacelles, blades and complete wind turbines. We have transported it all – as shown in our track record. Working for some of the world’s most recognised wind turbine producers, we have performed thousands of wind turbine transports to both onshore and offshore wind farms.
