Overview

Are You Ready for the EU batteries regulation's removable and repairability requirements?

Are you ready for the EU Batteries Regulation's Removability and Repairability Requirements?

The European Union Batteries Regulation 2023/1542 (the EU Batteries Regulation), which entered into force on 17 August 2023, requires that portable batteries incorporated into products that are placed on the EU market must be removable and replaceable.

What is the EU Battery regulation 2023/1542?

More specifically, in the battery space, the EU Battery Regulation (EU) 2023/1542, will introduce stringent requirements for the removability and replaceability of batteries in some battery powered products in 2027. Effective from February, these requirements aim to enhance product longevity and facilitate battery recycling.

Who provides battery replacement service?

The battery replacement service is provided by HUAWEI Authorised Service Centres. Applicable models depend on the battery spare parts inventory. Should HUAWEI Authorised Service Centres do not have battery in stock, a longer repair time might apply.

Does the EU batteries regulation apply in England & Wales?

The EU Batteries Regulation does not apply in England, Wales or Scotland. There is, however, a similar, but narrower, existing requirement under regulation 7 of The Batteries and Accumulators (Placing on the Market) Regulations 2008.
